FUND DESCRIPTION

The Vetiva Griffin 30 ETF "VG 30 ETF" is an open-ended Exchange Traded Fund managed by Vetiva Fund Managers Limited. The VG 30 ETF is designed to track the performance of the constituent companies of the NGX 30 Index and to replicate the price and yield performance of the Index.

INDEX DESCRIPTION

The NGX 30 Index comprises of the top 30 companies listed on the Nigerian Exchange Group ("NGX") in terms of market capitalization and liquidity and is a price index weighted by adjusted market capitalization.

MARKET SUMMARY

The All-Share Index (ASI) saw a modest increase of 1.53% in January, with the ASI closing the month at 104,496.12 points. Similarly, the NGX30 Index mirrored this positive close, gaining 1.62% month-to-date.

Performance across different sectors was mixed, with the Banking sector leading the gainers charts (+9.76%), as investors positioned themselves for full year earnings releases and dividend declarations. Major stocks like STANBIC (+11.72% m/m), ZENITH (+11.21% m/m), UBA (+10.88% m/m), ACCESSCORP (+9.01% m/m) and GTCO (+7.11% m/m) contributed generously to this green close. The Consumer Goods Sector followed as it gained 4.47% m/m driven by a bullish run in HONEYFLOUR (+52.06% m/m), NASCON (+21.21% m/m), UNILEVER (+15.33% m/m), NESTLE (+11.43% m/m) and NB (+11.88%), among others. On the flip side, the Industrial Goods Index declined by 8.52% m/m, due to profit taking activities in DANGCEM which lost 17.71% m/m. We note that the weight of DANGCEM in the Index is over 40% and the performance of this stock steers the direction of the Industrial Goods Index. The NGXOILGAS index also fell by 1.61%. MRS (-25.21% m/m), ARADEL (-4.80% m/m) and TOTAL (-4.01% m/m) were among the top losers in this sector. Additionally, the NGXINS index shed 1.10%. Leading the decline in this sector are: SUNUASSUR (-46.51% m/m), VERITASKAP (-19.86% m/m), and SOVRENINS (-10.71% m/m).

Looking ahead, the market's direction will be heavily influenced by upcoming earnings releases. Investors are expected to take cues from these earnings reports and various corporate actions announced by different companies. With this, we note the diversification benefit that the VG 30 ETF offers and maintain our position on the ETF being poised for stable long-term growth.
